

Social and Personal

ANNOUNCEMENT yesterday of the dates for the Monday germana, the brilliant and attractive entertainments given by the Richmond German Club, were of absorbing interest to society, especially to the debutantes who are formally presented to society on the first dance of the winter. The germana this season will be held at the Masonic Temple, the dates being as follows: December 12 and 20, January 9 and 23, February 6 and 20.

Officers elected by the club at a meeting held Saturday night are: President, Levin Joyner; Vice-President, Thomas Nelson Carter; Executive Committee, Colonel Jo Lane Stern, Dr. Charles V. Carrington, Julian Hill, W. S. P. Mayo and Charles E. Wortham, Jr.

Reception by Blues. The Blues Association will to-night tender a reception and dance to the members of the battalion in the armory. The men are requested by Major E. W. Bowles to attend with their arms, for the purpose of forming an out arm, for the purpose of forming an out arm, for the purpose of forming an out arm.

The reception to-night is to be the first of many which the association expects to give in the future. These receptions are expected to create more interest in the battalion on the part of the members of the association, and to pave the way for more co-operation between the enlisted men and those who have served their enlistment, as members of the retired members' organization.

Men who take women may leave them in the gallery during the battalion formation, and return to them afterwards for the dancing. An officer will be stationed at the door so that those who come in citizens' clothes to change to full dress uniform in the armory may be recognized and allowed to enter. The reception begins at 8 o'clock.

Nurses' Club to Meet. The Richmond Nurses' Club, which is composed of graduate registered nurses, its membership being fifty-five, will meet on Thursday afternoon at the club rooms, 201 East Cary Street, when Miss A. B. Corling, chairman of the entertainment committee will preside. A very interesting meeting was conducted by Miss N. J. Minor, chairman of the committee on social service, at the meeting held on Thursday last.

Back from Wedding Trip. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan have returned from their honeymoon, which was spent at Saratoga Springs. Mrs. Ryan, formerly Miss Hattie Daley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Daley, of Oakwood Avenue, and Mr. Ryan were married on Tuesday, October 4, in the parlors of Father Magri, at the Church Club.

With an excellent tennis tourney and golf matches the Country Club of Virginia had a large crowd present on Saturday afternoon, the beautiful Indian summer weather being particularly attractive in itself. There was much interest in the tennis tourney, the work of the contestants being watched with unusual interest. After the games there were many dinner parties at the club and an informal dance. The club grounds are considered the most beautiful in the State and are being improved constantly.

Society at the Play. The engagement of Miss Maude Adams at the Academy of Music on Friday and Saturday nights was notable in that it brought out the largest society contingent of the season. All of the boxes were filled, many debutantes being the special guests of honor. Several little dinner parties were given before and after the performances at the clubs.

Federation of Clubs. A general meeting of the Richmond Federation of Mothers' Clubs will be held in the assembly hall of Central School, on North Twelfth Street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is regarded as the most important meeting of the year, the idea being to clear the books of matters before the annual election to be held the second week in November, the reports of all officers having been called for. Every member and every individual mothers' club is urged to attend. The report of the president, Mrs. William Gemmell, will be read, the work accomplished by the city playgrounds, under the care of the playgrounds committee of the executive board, of which she has been chairman. The organization has been doing a great work in Richmond, and it is expected that the meeting this afternoon will be largely attended.

Cooke-Pond. Mr. and Mrs. William Pond, of 2321 Park Avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Anne Lacy, to George S. Cooke, of Nashville, Tenn., which took place in the parlors of the James Hotel, Washington, on October 15. Rev. Edgar Correll Powers officiating. Mr. Cooke is district manager of the American Tobacco Company at Nashville, in which city he and his bride will reside.

Silver Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Libby Hill Park Friday evening, October 7. The parlors and halls were beautifully decorated with palms, autumn flowers and festoons of morning glory vines. Vases of autumn leaves and golden rods were used in mantle decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were assisted in receiving by their daughters, Mrs. George H. Landers and Misses Margaret and Genevieve Williams. Mrs. Williams was gowned in handsome black silk, hand embroidered, with trimmings of black lace. Mrs. Landers wore her wedding gown of white satin, with trimmings of duchesse lace and pearls. Miss Margaret wore blue messaline, with a berthe of gold lace embroidery, and Miss Genevieve a white embroidered lingerie dress, with blue ribbons.

The parlors were thronged throughout the evening with relatives and friends, many being present who attended Mr. and Mrs. Williams' marriage twenty-five years ago. An orchestra rendered selections, and several solos were delightfully given by Miss Mary Manning.

Refreshments were served, and the health of the popular couple was drunk, all present expressing the hope that they would live to celebrate their golden wedding.

The gifts were very numerous and beautiful, many handsome articles being received from a distance.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Cooper Mayo will be at 115 East Franklin Street for a few months.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Louis Freear, who have resided in Farmville, Va., for the past ten years, have returned to Richmond and will be at 512 East Franklin Street for the winter. Mr. Freear is known as the author of "The Shadow Dwellers" and "Nancy Hart."

Mrs. Theodore M. Spieden and her daughter, Miss Marion Spieden, of Nashville, Tenn., who have been visiting Richmond and will be at 512 East Franklin Street for the past few days, have returned to Cedar Mountain, Va.

Miss Olive Webster has returned to the city after a pleasant stay in Newport News, having attended the Clements-Wynne wedding as maid of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Craigie have moved into their new home, 115 North Sycamore Street.

The Daily Journal, of Knoxville, Tenn., makes the following mention of a Richmond society woman who is spending some time in her native State: Mrs. Elliott, of Richmond, who is always a prominent figure in any gathering of progressive women, is in the city. Mrs. Elliott is a daughter of Tennessee's railroad king, the late Colonel E. W. Cole, and spent her childhood and young womanhood in Nashville, and resided in our State capital during the years of the life of her first husband, Mr. Benson.

Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, of New York, is at "Mirador," in Albemarle. She will remain until after Christmas.

Helenes Shanks. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., October 16.—Miss Elsie Gilliam, daughter of T. W. Gilliam, a well known financier of Lynchburg, reached Shanghai, China, Friday, where she has gone to become a missionary for the Southern Baptist Church.

Goding-Williams. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., October 16.—A romantic marriage took place in the clerk's office of the Circuit Court at Rustburg Friday afternoon, the principals being Miss Ruth Emma Williams, formerly of Oklahoma, and Ward E. PLAINTIFF GETS SMALL DAMAGES

Woman Sued After Name Was Placed on Merchants' Blacklist.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Wadesboro, N. C., October 16.—In the Superior Court this case of Mrs. Emma Richardson against P. T. Rhyme was tried and the jury awarded a verdict of $25 in favor of the plaintiff. This is one of the most interesting damage suits ever tried in Wadesboro. Mrs. Richardson sued Mr. Rhyme, proprietor of a meat market for $10,000 damages for reporting her as a person who would not pay her debts to the Merchants' Association, thereby causing her name to be placed on the blacklist of the association. Mr. Rhyme's claim against Mrs. Richardson amounted to $5.51, and his contention was that the bill was presented to her time after time, and that she refused to pay.

Mrs. Richardson on this point had claimed that she does not owe Mr. Rhyme at all; that the bill, if due at all, was owed by her husband, and that the late Walter L. Richardson, and that Mr. Rhyme did not present the claim to her as his administratrix for collection. Mrs. Richardson claims she was solvent at the time, and that no effort was made to collect the bill from her by law.

Mrs. Richardson's name was reported to the Retail Merchants' Association as being unworthy of credit in the fall of 1908 at which time she was in New York visiting her sister. She returned to Wadesboro in December of the same year and found that credit was denied her by the merchants of the town because her name had been blacklisted by the Merchants' Association.

The case of Dr. L. V. Dunlap, administrator of his father, the late James A. Dunlap, against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, was compromised for $4,000 by the merchants of the town.

While returning from Wadesboro to his home at Cedar Hill, on December 1, 1909, was struck by a Seaboard freight train at the Ansonville crossing and instantly killed. Mr. Dunlap was a member of one of the prominent families in the county, and was himself well known and popular. Soon after Mr. Dunlap's death, his son, Dr. L. V. Dunlap, an Alabamian, qualified as his administrator and started the action against the railroad, claiming $20,000 damages.

The Amherst Fair. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., October 16.—The annual fair and live stock exhibit, under the auspices of the Amherst County Pure Breed Stock Association, will be held at Amherst Courthouse, October 27 and 28. This association has done a great amount of work in the past few years looking to the improvement of the live stock owned in Amherst county.

District Meeting. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Wadesboro, N. C., October 16.—The district meeting for the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Methodist-Episcopal Church, South, of the Charlotte district, will be held in the Methodist Church in Wadesboro, October 20 and 21.

The district secretaries of both the home and foreign departments will be present.

Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Allan, of Charlotte, who attended the World's Missionary Conference at Edinburgh, Scotland, will also be present, and will address the young people on Thursday evening.

HIGHEST HONOR TO BELMONT ABBEY

Famous Institution Will Be Elevated to Cathedral Abbey.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlotte, N. C., October 16.—In the presence of all the American prelates of the Catholic Church and hundreds of the clergy, the edict of Pope Pius X., elevating Belmont Abbey to the rank of the first Cathedral Abbey in the Western Hemisphere, Abbatia Nullius, will be formally executed Tuesday next with ceremonies surpassing in magnificence and solemnity perhaps any ecclesiastical event in the South's history. The central figure in the exercises will be the Most Rev. Dionisio Falconio, papal delegate to the United States, who will perform the ceremony incident to the publication and execution of the mandate.

The papal bull, dated June 13, 1910, in recognition of the faithful and successful work of the band of Benedictine monks who, a quarter of a century ago, planted in the wilderness ten miles from Charlotte, a colony that has prospered despite great handicaps, the abbey, an enclosure of the largest Catholic college in the South, a handsome cathedral, a monastery, orphanage and convent and covers several hundred acres. The abbey has extended its sheltering arms to miscreants no less than to the lowest of the South and to-day controls no less than ten of the most important of the Right Rev. Leo Haid, O. S. B., vicar apostolic of North Carolina, accompanied the little band of Benedictine monks sent here twenty-five years ago from the arch abbey in Pennsylvania and was made abbot of the colony. With the celebration of the silver jubilee of the abbey and of his services as abbot, the Pope has conferred extraordinary powers and privileges upon Bishop Haid.

The preliminary ceremonies marking the elevation of Belmont to a cathedral abbey will begin to-morrow with the arrival of Monsignor Falconio, who will be received with the pomp and ceremony due his position.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET AT ORANGE

Enthusiastic Session Held and Many Matters of Interest Discussed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Orange, Va., October 16.—A most enthusiastic meeting of the Orange County Teachers' Association was held at Orange Courthouse on October 13 and 14. There were in attendance thirty-nine teachers out of the forty-five white teachers in the county, several trustees and a number of visitors. The meeting will be productive of much good in stimulating interest in education throughout the county.

Superintendent C. J. Cowherd called the meeting to order and introduced George L. Browning, one of the board of trustees, who made the address of welcome. The response was made by Professor F. M. Alexander, of the Orange High School.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following: President, Professor F. M. Alexander, of the Orange High School; Vice-President, Professor Painter, of the Gordonsville High School; Treasurer, Miss Gravide, of the Orange High School; Secretary, Miss Janie L. Jones. The following committee—Misses Elam, Jessup, Rowe, Willis, Ewell and Alexander—representing the one-room schools, the graded schools and the high schools of the county—was appointed to meet with the supervisor of Rural Schools T. S. Settle and arrange a course of study for the rural and graded schools of Orange county.

They succeeded in arranging a practical course, which was printed in pamphlet form and put in the hands of every teacher in the county.

Miss B. E. Coleman, of the county, was present, and gave an interesting talk and blackboard illustration on the teaching of reading in the primary grades.

State Supervisor of Rural Schools T. S. Settle captivated every teacher present by his forceful and timely talks on the course of study and daily program for the rural schools, and on the solution of difficulties that the rural teacher may have to contend with.

Both days there were many interesting round table discussions, in which the teachers took part.

The following delegates were elected to the State conference in November: Misses Eulah Hatcher and Mary Briscoe.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Orange Courthouse December 2.

OBJECT TO OFFICERS SELLING TO CITY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Alexandria, Va., October 15.—A letter of formal protest against city councilmen, members of the Board of Aldermen and other city officers, contracting with the city or selling goods to the city, has been made by Councilman A. D. Brockie, of the third ward. Letters of protest were received by Mayor Paff, City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson and City Auditor E. F. Price. Both Mr. Robinson and Mr. Price said that they would be compelled to pay bills, proper or improper, brought to them. The outcome is awaited with interest. The matter was agitated at a meeting of City Council Tuesday night last.

SENT ON TO GRAND JURY.

Hollander, charged with breaking into a house and firing an empty gun, was sent on by Justice T. D. Coghlin to await the action of the grand jury at the December term of the court upon a charge of breaking into the house of J. W. Voss, stealing his gun and revolver, attempting to kill him, and resisting the officers who went to arrest him, by drawing his revolver on them. He was prevented by the quick action of the officers, who covered him with their guns.

During the trial Brown got into a frenzy and again threatened to kill Voss. He was unable to give bail and was locked up.

NO FATALITIES IN B. & O. WRECK

All Will Recover, but Some Will Be Maimed for Life.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Winchester, Va., October 16.—It was stated at memorial hospital this afternoon that all those injured last night in the wreck of passenger train No. 1 on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Wadesboro, eight miles north of Winchester, will probably recover, although some will be maimed for life. J. J. Lintley, general foreman of the Winchester and Washington City Electric Company, was the worst injured, one of his lungs being punctured, in addition to a wrenched back, cuts and bruises. D. M. Swink, manager of the same company, had a shoulder broken. The injured passengers had narrow experiences, extricating themselves from two wrecked coaches after rolling over and over down a fifty-foot embankment, and many were cut by flying glass. Streamers of red blood, the men worked heroically in the darkness, carrying panic-stricken women and children to places of safety.

Hurled from one end of a car to the other with a baby in her arms, Mrs. W. C. Hawkins, of Brunswick, Md., had a miraculous escape, but the child was seriously injured. C. H. Coons, post-office inspector, whose head, face and body was badly cut, is the man who captured Harris, the Richmond post-office robber in New York recently.

Among others in a wrecked coach were Miss Lucy Marshall Willis, a Winchester society girl, and Charles Ridgely White, of Baltimore, who are soon to be married here. Mr. White rescued his fiancée at the bottom of the embankment. Mrs. Alexander M. Baker, a Winchester society leader, returning from Baltimore, was cut and bruised in many places, and lost a purse containing about $150 and priceless jewels.

Rails spreading on rotten ties are said to have caused the accident, which occurred just after crossing the high bridge over Opequon Creek. Railroad men burned the wreckage early this morning. Crowds of people besieged the train dispatcher's office late last night, begging information concerning relatives and friends who went down with the wrecked train.

Pollard-Albaugh. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Baltimore, Md., October 16.—John Beverly Pollard, surgeon attached to the battleship North Dakota and a member of a prominent Virginia family, came to this city yesterday and quietly wedded Miss Alice Mary Albaugh, daughter of the late John W. Albaugh, Jr., one of the best known theatrical managers of the country. Dr. Pollard's home at present is at Charlottesville, and during the fall he will coach the football team of the University of Virginia.

The marriage of Miss Albaugh was a surprise to her many friends in Baltimore and out-of-town society. She made her debut two years ago. The marriage ceremony was performed in the parlor of the paragonage of St. Ignace Roman Catholic Church, Rev. F. X. Brady, president of Loyola College, being the officiating clergyman.

The members of the bride's family intended that the wedding should take place next spring, but the ceremony was hastened so that the principals could attend a brief honeymoon. Dr. Pollard will sail on the North Dakota about the middle of December for a long cruise. His ship is attached to the North Atlantic squadron.

Celebrate Silver Wedding. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Windsor, Va., October 16.—On Friday night Rev. and Mrs. J. L. King celebrated their silver wedding, it being their twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage, at the Baptist parsonage here. The lower floor was handsomely decorated in ferns, potted plants, cut flowers and lighted candles. The receiving line was composed of Rev. and Mrs. King, their six sons, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Hubbard, of the Eastern Shore; Mrs. Downie, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, of Norfolk.

Luncheon was served by twelve young women. The presents were numerous and beautiful. They were a silver service from the Windsor Baptist Church, a silver waiter filled with silver dollars from Western Branch Sunday school and a filled silver purse from Mill Swamp Church.

Cunningham-Crews. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Tucker, Va., October 16.—A pretty marriage took place at the home of Ben J. Crews on Thursday at 2 o'clock, when Miss Nellie, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Crews became the bride of Thomas H. Cunningham, of Norwood. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Tyree C. White, the bride's party left for the groom's home, where a reception was tendered.

The attendants were Miss Maude Cunningham and Emmet Crews; Miss Minnie Cunningham and John Crews, Miss Mistle Crews and Charlie Crews.

Edwards-Emmett. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lynchburg, Va., October 16.—A pretty home wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton Emmett, when their daughter, Miss Ethel Emmett, was wedded to David T. Edwards, a business man of the city. No invitations were issued by reason of sickness in the bride's family, and only the immediate families witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. W. W. Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Moore-Odom. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Wadesboro, N. C., October 16.—A very quiet home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's father, J. W. Odom, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when his daughter, Miss Lenora, was married to A. V. Moore, of McFarlan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Barker, pastor of Morven circuit. Mrs. Moore is a popular young woman, and has many friends here and throughout the county. Mr. Moore is a young farmer of McFarlan.
